RETRACTABLE
PERGOLAS & AWNINGS

Beyond Imagination

Welcome to GOSS Outdoor. We pride ourselves on our rich portfolio of services and expertise in the design, manufacturing and installation of quality shading systems. Whatever your needs, we are confident that GOSS Outdoor has the solution. Pergolas, Awnings and Motorised Blinds are our core ranges, co-ordinated from our office in Manchester - but covering the United Kingdom and Continental Europe.

Our business commenced trading in 2003 and has grown through worldwide sales and now has a dedicated 12.00m<sup>2</sup> overseas production facility. The brand GOSS Outdoor provides the design team, technical know-how and administrative support to provide a high-quality customer-based service in the UK and around the world.

Our retractable roof systems provide a stylish architectural covering which allows the outdoor areas to be used all year round in any weather condition.

We've got you covered...

We now can be seen in global markets. Since our origin is in the Republic of Turkey, we are now represented in four continents and 78 countries - as the increasingly discerning customers seek unrivalled shading solutions to complement infrastructure and facility design.

Bioclimatic Pergola Zeus

A work of wonders, the Bioclimatic Pergola series is one of our most contemporary installations. The Zeus series can create a bold statement in your outdoor space as well as be an incredibly flexible solution to extending your outreach with a variety of options to suit every individual project - whether standing tall by itself or attached to your property.

Helping You Choose

Fabrics by Serge Ferrari

We utilise only the best materials for fabrics and membranes. These are sourced by our partner, which has supplied flexible composite membranes for some 80% of all temporary structures for the London 2012 Olympics; and has developed a know-how that is frequently being called upon for technically demanding projects that combine architectural challenges and difficult climatic conditions.

Electronics by somfy Building happiness

Somfy is the word leader in the automatic control of openings and closures in homes and buildings, and puts automatic control at the heart of the transformation of people's living environments. The solutions it offers to improve comfort, security and energy efficiency can be seen today in many commercial premises, retail, residential applications - and public spaces, and are constantly finding new applications in our daily lives.
